

IT'S WORLD BOOK DAY!

Thursday 4th March – World Book Day

As part of our celebrations, the staff at Archibald have recorded a variety of stories for you to enjoy. You can either listen to one before bedtime or at any point during the day. This collection of stories will be available for you to enjoy throughout the week; you will shortly receive a letter which will explain how they can be accessed.

On Wednesday, the boys and girls in Early Years will be coming dressed in their PJs and onesies and will bring in a favourite book to share. We would like to invite our home learners to join in too. We would like you to send in photos of yourselves enjoying some reading time at home, dressed in your pjs; you may even wish to have hot chocolate too! Also, if you would like to record yourself reading a short story, we could then share them with the children in school.

On Thursday 4th March we would like the children to take part in a 'Share a Story' Live Event. This event will run from 10.30 -11am and can be accessed via the link below:
